

October 17th; WAHS Auditorium

WAHS College Panel Discussion Group

Seniors: 8:30am-9:30am

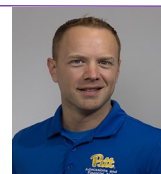

Juniors: 10am-11am

Meet Admissions
Representatives!

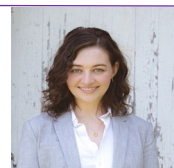

Julie Bialkowski, M.Ed. is an Admissions and Financial Aid Counselor at Penn State Scranton. She earned her bachelor's degree in Public Relations and master's degree in Higher Education Administration from Penn State University. Julie uses her communication and counseling skills to help students navigate educational options and make decisions that reflect their values. When she's not advising students on college choice and finances, you'll find her spending time with her spouse and three children, bingeing podcasts or walking her dog.

As a first-generation college student, Daryl Burleigh was pretty overwhelmed by the college search and admissions process. Now he enjoys making this process as smooth and stress-free as possible for students and their parents. He grew up in a small farming community in Wayne County, PA, and is happy to be the University of Pittsburgh representative for all the great counties throughout rural PA. In his free time, he enjoys snowboarding and skydiving.

Jack Lawless is the Senior Recruitment Advisor in Enrollment at Johnson College. He oversees and works with all current and incoming Dual Enrollment/Industry Fast Track students as well as, specifically, incoming Automotive and Welding Technology students. He has been with Johnson College for five years and resides nearby in his hometown, Dunmore, with his wife Rachael and their daughter, Quinn.

Kelsey Healey is the Healthcare Pathway Coordinator in the Pre-College Programs department at Lackawanna College. Kelsey earned her Bachelor of Arts in English and Master of Science in Higher Education Administration from Marywood University.

Johnna McGovern serves as the Assistant Director of Undergraduate Admissions at Misericordia University. She loves her job because of the students she meets and the community that she is able to introduce them to. When she's not on campus, she can usually be found running, reading or spending time with her two doodles, Tully and Marcy.

Major Bill Ramsey, US Army (Retired) has served as the primary recruiting officer for North East Pennsylvania Army ROTC since 2000. Prior to moving to The University of Scranton, the NEPA Army ROTC Host School he was the Commandant of the Army Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning Georgia. Bill enlisted in the Army in 1979 and retired in 2005 having served in leadership positions from Squad Leader to Battalion Commander in The United States, Germany, Korea, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Macedonia.

Megan Geklinsky is the Associate Director of Admissions at Northampton Community College. She has been at NCC for just over 3 years, however, she also has 4-years of experience in admissions and enrollment. Northampton is one of the finest institutions she has worked at. She believes the students are some of the best, and they have so many unique programs for students. Even though they are the local community college, they offer residence halls for students near and far. NCC also offers seamless transfer opportunities. They have partnerships with over 100 colleges and universities for students to continue their education after NCC. "I have never been more proud to represent an institution...and I can't wait to work with you through the application process!"