

Wallenpaupack Area School District District Report Card 2008-2009

Report cards are an important source of information about school performance and accountability. They allow schools to compare data in a consistent way and highlight opportunities for improvement.

This report card will show not only the achievement of students overall, but also the progress that disaggregated groups are making in closing achievement gaps. Report card data help Pennsylvania school districts and the Pennsylvania Department of Education focus on specific groups of students who are currently not meeting academic standards.

The WASD report card is designed to ensure that the public is fully informed about school performance and to promote broader participation and better decision-making by providing a shared source of performance data. The federal initiative requiring a district report card is based on the idea that a well-informed public plays an important part in school improvement.

The data on this report card is compiled from multiple sources and may not match AYP data published for the district.

Teacher Qualifications

The federal definition of a “highly qualified teacher” is tied to state certification and licensure requirements. In PA, a public school teacher must hold a bachelor’s degree and must have passed the PA test for their area of certification, that is, elementary or middle and high school subject areas. Teachers may not be assigned to teach outside their subject area. Also, a highly qualified teacher has not had certification waived on an emergency, temporary, or provisional basis.

| Pennsylvania Certification             | Teachers |
|--|----------|
| Highly Qualified                       | 96.6%    |
| Emergency or Provisional Certification | 3.4%     |

*The above information is as of June, 2009.

Assessment Trends

The following charts show averages calculated by the district of students tested in grades 5, 8 and 11 since 2002-03. The percentages represent the number of students scoring either Proficient or Advanced on PSSA Reading and Mathematic assessments.

Adequate Yearly Progress

Pennsylvania System of School Assessment (PSSA) ranks student achievement in reading, math, writing, and science by using the following rating system: Advanced, Proficient, Basic and Below Basic. Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) is determined by reading and math student achievement only.

In order for schools to achieve adequate yearly progress the following requirements must be met for the 2008-2009 school year:

- Ninety-five (95) percent of all students must take the state assessments.
- In mathematics, at least 56% of the students must score at the Proficient or Advanced level.
- In reading/language arts, at least 63% of the students must score at the Proficient or Advanced level.
- Attendance rate must be at 90% or show growth.
- Graduation rate must be at 80% or show growth.

Performance proficiency targets will be raised over the next several years as the state strives to have 100 percent of all students proficient in reading and mathematics by 2014. In addition to looking at test scores by school by grade level, the scores are also analyzed by student subgroups. The subgroups include the following:
students with Individual Education Plans (IEP's), economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency, and students representing various major ethnic groups.

It is important to note that each student subgroup must achieve the minimum percentages in reading and mathematics to be considered making AYP. A subgroup must contain forty (40) students for the scores to count toward a school's annual yearly progress.

Pennsylvania Department of Education has notified the Wallenpaupack Area School District that the district has met its Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) targets for 2008-2009. Each building met its individual AYP targets. The district continues to identify areas of concern and the strategies and educational practices needed to improve student achievement.

| Building                       | 2009 Status |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Wallenpaupack Area School District    | Made AYP           |
| Wallenpaupack South Elementary School | Made AYP           |
| Wallenpaupack Area North Intermediate | Made AYP           |
| Wallenpaupack Area Middle School      | Made AYP           |
| Wallenpaupack Area High School        | Made AYP           |

Adequate Yearly Progress Benchmarks

Since the implementation of PDE’s assessment plan to meet the requirements of the “No Child Left Behind Act” (NCLB), districts have been challenged to meet specific achievement targets in math and reading, as well as other performance targets. All students must meet the increasing targets, including the following populations: major ethnic groups, special education students; limited English proficient students; and low-income students. Collectively, these targets are known as adequate yearly progress (AYP).

| Year  | 2002-2004 | 2005-2007 | 2008-2010 | 2011 | 2012 | 2013 | 2014 |
|---|-----------|-----------|-----------|------|------|------|------|
| Percentage Proficient and Advanced in Reading | 45        | 54        | 63        | 72   | 81   | 91   | 100  |
| Percentage Proficient and Advanced in Math    | 35        | 45        | 56        | 67   | 78   | 89   | 100  |

District Averages

The following graphs display the percentage of Wallenpaupack students achieving Advanced or Proficient as compared to students across the state for the 2008-2009 school year.

Summary

The continued support of our students and schools is sincerely appreciated and important to us. We are proud of the progress our students are making. Most of our students exceed at levels above the state averages. As professional educators, who are charged to teach all students, we continue to assume our responsibility and accountability.

The Wallenpaupack Area School District will continue to approach our obligations to instruct all students with integrity and a sense of purpose that addresses the varying needs of all students.
